Steel mills wary of China's import surge

TIME TO DERISK. India's steel imports grew 30% y-o-y in Q4

Abhishek Law
New Delhi

Jayant Acharya,
Joint MD and CEO, JSW Steel

India's steel-makers raised concerns over increasing shipments from China and "other ASEAN" nations. Increased imports have skewed the domestic market with some larger integrated steel players pointing at a "risk."

JSW Steel, the largest in the country; state-owned SAIL and Naveen Jindal-promoted JSPL raised the issue during their earnings call. India steel imports at 2.61 million tonnes (mt) grew 30 per cent y-o-y in Q4 and at over 8 mt for the full year grew by 38 per cent.

Last fiscal, one out of every three products imported was Chinese.

KEY RISK

In April, nearly 0.14 mt of steel came in from China, up 29 per cent y-o-y, but Japan and Korea were top two importers at 0.21 mt and 0.15 mt, respectively. Jayant order quantity is too small to be commercially viable and then there could be some import of that item; or where a unit buys from its overseas entity.

"...otherwise I don't see any need for import or for somebody to rely on the import. I think most of the import is primarily due to an opportunity of a price arbitrage, which takes place," Acharya added that: "Imports from China is a concern and we will have to continue to watch that in this year as well."

PRICE GUIDANCE

Domestic steel demand continues to be strong though. A conservative growth trajectory for India for this decade, between 7 and 10 per cent, we see an incremental demand of 12 mt per year.

"We have seen an increase in global steel prices rising by around $20/tonne in China and some of that has been reflected in April and May in India as well," he said.

Acharya, Joint MD and CEO, JSW Steel, said rising steel imports remain a key risk for domestic industry, especially from China and ASEAN. He said the company's domestic sales stood at 5.16 mt and fell marginally "due to elevated imports and channel de-stocking pre-elections".

"..... more than 95 per cent steel, which is imported — maybe 96 - 97 per cent — can be produced in India. So therefore, availability in India for those is not a constraint," he said, adding that there may be some special grades where the minimum

Krishna Ella receiving the Dean's Medal from Dean Ellen J. MacKenzie for his 'exceptional leadership' in safeguarding and improving global public health

Krishna Ella, Co-founder and Executive Chairman of Bharat Biotech, has been awarded the prestigious Dean's Medal by the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health. The award was presented to Ella by Dean Ellen J. "John Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health acknowledges Ella's pioneering work, remarkable influence and determination to develop an indigenous, innovative and safe vaccine focused on global public health," the release said.

The School's highest honour is the medal, reserved for outstanding public health researchers and practitioners who demonstrate exceptional leadership in safeguarding and improving public health.
